

LEHMAN IS ELECTED BY 66,346 VOTES

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Republicans Sweep Ulster Ticket With Huge Majorities

City and County Unite To Elect G. O. P. Ticket; Dewey's Majority 10,176

Republicans Carry City Except for the Surrogate's Post

Republican candidates carried the city of Kingston with the exception of the office of surrogate, Democratic candidate Chris J. Flanagan having a plurality of 12 votes. In Kingston Mr. Flanagan received a total of 6,665 votes, of which number 6,061 were Democratic, 519 American Labor and 55 Socialist. Mr. Flemming received 8,653 votes on the Republican ticket.

Thomas E. Dewey carried the city by a majority of 2,006 over Governor Lehman.

Wicks' Largest Majority

The Republican to receive the largest majority in the city was Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who led his Democratic opponent, Maurice Sullivan, by 2,400. Mr. Sullivan received 5,062 Democratic votes and 373 American Labor, while Senator Wicks was given 7,781 Republican votes and 54 Socialist.

Assemblyman J. Edward Conway defeated his Democratic opponent, Eugene B. Carey, by a majority of 2,141.

Congressman Lewis K. Rockefeller rolled up a majority of 1,374 over George W. Markey, his Democratic opponent.

Molyneux's Margin

Sheriff Abram Molyneux, who was re-elected for his second term under the provisions of the new state law which permitted a sheriff to be a candidate, to succeed himself, carried the city by a majority of 1,963 over John C. Shults of Saugerties.

Coroner Howard B. Humiston of Kerhonkson and Jesse McHugh of Wallkill carried the city by large majorities over Dr. Orran M. Roberts of Ellenville and Coroner Michael Galletta of Glasco.

Coroner Humiston polled 7,635 votes in Kingston, and Jesse McHugh 8,921, while Dr. Roberts polled 5,321 and Coroner Galletta, 5,648.

Coroner Galletta, the Democratic candidate, had been appointed by Governor Lehman to fill the unexpired term of the late Leston DuBois of New Paltz who was killed in an auto accident.

The results of the sweeping Republican victory in Kingston and Ulster county were known early, owing to the fact that voting machines were used for the first time in all of the election districts in the county.

Several Parades Held

As the returns began to pour into the office of County Chairman Philip Elting it was early realized that the Republican party was still firmly in control and there were several parades staged during the early evening.

The famous Doodleboppers turned out in full costume and paraded through Wall Street and into the office of Mr. Elting where they rendered a musical program, and then visited the court house to serenade Sheriff Molyneux.

American Labor Vote

The newly organized American Labor party polled a vote of 519 in Kingston. That was the number cast for Attorney Flanagan, while Governor Lehman received 472 Labor party votes, and Senator Wagner 416. Other Democratic candidates endorsed by the party received 350 or more votes.

Progressive Party

The Independent Progressive party gave Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate for governor, 75 votes, the highest number of votes polled by the party in Kingston.

The Socialist Vote

The Socialist party cast less than a hundred votes this year in Kingston. The highest number polled was 84 which were cast for Attorney Flanagan, while Eugene B. Carey received 59 votes and Senator Wicks 54.

Police Report Confession

Milan, Italy, Nov. 9 (AP)—Police said today a 40-year-old woman confessed she shot dead the wealthy Luigi Alberico Trivulzio last night. The woman gave as her reason, police announced, that the prince abruptly ended a love affair with her after 15 years. She gave as her name Maria Antonietta Lazzarini.

Floyd B. Garrison, Saugerties Bank Cashier, Is Dead

Death Is Result of Infection
Following Attack of Grip;
Had Wide Experience
Throughout County

Floyd B. Garrison of Market street, Saugerties, cashier of the First National Bank and Trust Co. of Saugerties, died at 4:40 o'clock this morning at the Benedictine Hospital, where he was taken October 30 for treatment of a streptococcus infection, following an attack of the grip.

Born at Allgerville, Mr. Garrison was in his early years employed for some time at Mohonk Lake. Later he went to Ellenville, where he entered the Home National Bank and rose to the position of cashier, and some years ago removed to Saugerties to take a position as cashier of the bank there.

He was an active member of the Methodist Church and superintendent of the Sunday school in both Ellenville and Saugerties and a member of the board of trustees of the Saugerties Church. Mr. Garrison was also a member of Ulster Lodge No. 193, F. & A. M., of Saugerties and a member of the village board of Saugerties. A man of fine character, he had a host of friends who will learn with sorrow of his death. He was in his 48th year.

Mr. Garrison is survived by his wife, Ruth Kenney Garrison of Saugerties; two children, Mrs. Lorin Calkins of Washington, D. C. and Elizabeth at home; his father George W. Garrison of Allgerville and two sisters, Mrs. Merrick Bellows of Woodside, L. I. and Mrs. Frank C. Barnhardt of Waterbury, Conn. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Two Probes Begin

Orangeburg, N. Y., Nov. 9 (AP)—Two investigations were underway today into the deaths of two inmates at the Rockland State Hospital for the insane and the illness of three others as a result of a mistake in administering drugs. Dr. E. Hall Kline, Rockland county coroner, said a nurse of 20 years' experience had injected the wrong drug into five patients. The nurse and the hospital's pharmacist have been suspended. Dr. Kline said, pending the outcome of his inquiry. District Attorney George V. Dorsey is conducting a separate investigation.

Troops Continue Gain

Hendaye, France (at the Spanish frontier), Nov. 9 (AP)—Dispatches of the Spanish government said today its troops were moving steadily ahead on the Segre river front and had captured a second stretch of the important Zaragoza-Lerida highway in northeastern Spain. Government advances maintained insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco already had been forced to withdraw great numbers of soldiers and airplanes from the Ebro river front to support his Segre river lines about 30 miles farther north.

Elkton Votes It All Down

Baltimore, Nov. 9 (AP)—Baltimore voters apparently ended Elkton's lucrative marriage trade today, supporting by 60,795 to 15,891 a law requiring a 48-hour lapse in Maryland between license and wedding.

Two for Lehman

Gov. Herbert H. Lehman seemed quite happy about it all as he and Mrs. Lehman prepared to cast their votes in a New York city polling place. The Democratic candidate to succeed himself waged as strenuous a campaign for the post as any he had engaged in for the governorship.

Pennsylvania Downs 'Little New Deal' Rule

Kentucky Counts 8 Election Deaths

Four Dead in Harlan County in First Outbreak Since 1933 When 18 Died

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 9 (AP)—Kentucky counted eight dead today in Election Day gun play.

Back in 1933 the toll reached 18 in the November general election. Until yesterday voting days had been far less marked by shootings.

Despite the apparent lack of interest during the campaign, Democrats of the state turned out to give Senate Majority Leader Alben Barkley a lead of more than 91,000 votes over John P. Haswell, his Republican opponent on returns from 2,725 of Kentucky's 4,324 precincts. The latest tabulation gave Barkley 212,175 to Haswell's 120,304.

Along with Senator Barkley eight of the nine congressmen appeared certain of re-election on incomplete unofficial returns. Harlan county, long known for labor and election disorders, reported four dead. National Guardsmen watched over the ballot boxes throughout the night, with representatives of the Democratic and Republican parties.

Republicans Heap Up Huge Leads in What Bids to Be Largest Vote Ever Cast in State General Election

Philadelphia, Nov. 9 (AP)—Republicans won back Pennsylvania today as a rising tide of votes toppled from power the "Little New Deal"—the state's first Democratic administration in 49 years.

Down the line for United States senator, governor, lieutenant governor and secretary of internal affairs, Republicans heaped up leads of 270,000 to 350,000 in the count of what approached the largest vote ever cast in a Pennsylvania general election.

Republicans also cut sharply into the Democratic majority of 27 to 7 in the Pennsylvania congressional delegation and picked up strength in the state legislature.

Governor George H. Earle, whose election four years ago shook Pennsylvania from the Republican camp for the first time since 1895, conceded defeat shortly after midnight in a telegram to his opponent, the silver-haired Republican, James J. Davis, in their race for the United States Senate. Earle also conceded the defeat of his running mate, Charles Alvin Jones, by Superior

Governor Wins in Closest Battle of His Political Career; Republicans Hit Comeback Trail Over Nation

Roosevelt Gets His First Big Reverse Since 1932 Victory

(By The Associated Press)

The Republican party hit the comeback trail at political power today by upsetting Democratic regimes in a dozen strategic states, among them Pennsylvania. It delivered the New Deal the first major election reverse since Franklin Roosevelt was chosen president six years ago. The Democrats, nevertheless, retained control of Congress and more than half the governorships.

Along the Atlantic seaboard, in the midwest and on the Pacific coast, one Democratic administration after another toppled before the tide of votes.

About a dozen Republicans contested successfully for governorships now held by Democrats. Eight Republican aspirants won Democratic seats in the senate. As returns continued to come in, more than 50 house seats switched from the Democratic to the Republican side.

Parties Split Even

In the two biggest state elections—New York and Pennsylvania—the major parties split even. Governor Herbert H. Lehman, New York Democrat, won re-election over Thomas E. Dewey after a close race of vote-counting in which first one and then the other pulled ahead.

Senator Robert F. Wagner (D-N.Y.), a staunch Roosevelt supporter, also outdistanced his Republican rival and Rep. James M. Mead (D.) was chosen to fill the seat made vacant by the death of Senator Royal S. Copeland.

In nearly Pennsylvania, just about the reverse occurred. Gov. George H. Earle, who gave the state a "Little New Deal," failed in his effort to unseat Republican Senator James J. Davis.

Arthur H. James, who campaigned on a promise to undo most of what Earle has done, was elected governor. His Democratic opponent was Charles Alvin Jones. Only in the "solid south" did Democratic lines remain intact. Across the middle and northern sections of the country the Republicans counted governorships in these states which, at least for the last two years, the Democrats had ruled:

Colorado, Connecticut, Idaho, Kansas, Massachusetts, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Michigan, Ohio and Wyoming. They also captured the Wisconsin administration from Gov. Philip F. LaFollette, head of the Progressive party, and appeared favored to win in Minnesota, where the Farm-Laborites have been in power since 1920.

Senate upheavals were not so large, but they far exceeded Democratic predictions of what the Republicans would win. In addition to Pennsylvania, Republicans captured Democratic senate seats in Connecticut, Kansas, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

Dewey Says He'll Sleep Then Forge Ahead on Work

Republican Candidate Spends Busy Evening Tabulating See-Saw Returns, Then He Files Telegram

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Of all the nearly five million people who participated in New York's election, Thomas E. Dewey probably remained the coolest.

The governorship and possibly an eventual nomination for the Presidency of the United States were at stake in one of the most outstanding recent political careers, but the slight, dark, ebullient-turned-racket-buster never batted an eyelash.

For six solid hours he locked himself in his small office at campaign headquarters with 15 or 20 friends and methodically added up the returns in the see-sawing battle of votes.

In the hallway just outside his door there was confusion—hundreds of people jammed the floor, struggling for one reason or another or no reason, to get near the "sanctum."

The principals among the intimate group of advisers were Mrs. Dewey and his mother. The hours went by and the returns poured in—Lehman ahead . . . Dewey ahead . . . 290 upstate districts missing . . . 100 city districts missing.

Dewey emerged from the sanctum only four times. At 9:15, he responded to the plea of 20-odd photographers and pushed through the hallway crush to an empty room on the other side of the building, where he posed at a desk with his running mate, Edward Corsi.

The sanctum door at last was opened.

"I have a telegram to read to you," Dewey said.

"Governor Herbert H. Lehman, Chatham Building, New York City . . . Heartiest congratulations."

"What do you plan to do now that the campaign's over?" somebody asked.

"I'm going to continue my work. But right now I'm going home and get 10 hours sleep for the first time in five months."

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 9 (AP)—The postwar grip on industry on November 7, 1938. Receipts $10,232,709.95; expenditures $48,867,372.12; net balance $2,579,011,234.37; including $1,968,484,266.69 working balance; customs receipts for the month $7,050,527.28. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1) $2,025,914,232.37; expenditures $3,206,223,030.96; including $1,018,524,107.71 emergency expenditures; excess of expenditures $1,181,218,907.59; gross debt $38,467,941,597.05, an increase of $325,117.98 over the previous day; gold assets $14,085,728,454.26.

Advance Continues

Shanghai, Nov. 9 (AP)—Japanese troops carried their advance into Hunan Province today by capturing Tuanfushan, west of the Hankow-Canton Railway, and lightening their pioneers' movement against Yochow, an important Yangtze river and railroad city 122 miles upriver from Hankow. Japanese warships pierced mine fields to reach Chihpeh, 90 miles above Hankow. Forty Japanese planes bombed the Yenchang airdrome, Hunan province, and claimed to have destroyed 16 grounded Chinese planes.

He Voted for Lincoln

The Rev. Edwin Hunt, who is in his 90th year, helped swell the Republican majority in Ulster county yesterday, continuing a practice that started when he cast his first vote for "Abe" Lincoln.

Polletti, Bennett Wagner Pile Up Impressive Leads

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Governor Herbert H. Lehman today came out of the closest run of his political career—provided by an opponent he inadvertently helped to the pre-eminence of front-runner on the Republican state ticket—with the unreserved thanks and congratulations of President Roosevelt.

Latest figures on all races in yesterday's state election (including New York city complete) follow:

Governor: Lehman, 2,383,461; Dewey, 2,317,300 (two districts unreported).

U. S. Senate (long term): Wagner, 2,422,377; O'Brien, 1,953,853 (368 districts unreported).

Attorney General: Bennett, 2,067,266; McDermott, 1,833,315; O'Leary (partial), 417,753 (501 districts unreported).

Lieut. Governor: Polletti, 2,291,792; Bontecou, 2,008,919 (432 districts unreported).

Veteran of three two-year terms in Albany, and warm and sometimes lukewarm or even cool to the national administration policies, the Democratic governor was elected yesterday to his first four-year term over the uncomfurlably close challenge put up by the racket-busting New York (Manhattan) district attorney, Thomas E. Dewey.

President Congratulates

The President, up late in his Hyde Park home, was among the first to telephone the governor in the early morning when Dewey conceded his defeat.

Dewey has been appointed by Lehman as special assistant district attorney of New York city and used his spectacular racket-busting abilities as a springboard to the district attorneyship last fall, and then to the Republican gubernatorial candidacy.

Young Dewey's vote-getting powers could be measured by the difference between Lehman's comparatively scant plurality and the comfortable margins rolled up by the two successful Democratic senatorial candidates.

Front Rank Personality

Dewey ran so far ahead of his ticket that he remained a personality to reckon with, but the 36-year-old prosecutor took his beating with the announcement that he would continue as district attorney, specializing in racket-busting.

The governor was cheered tumultuously by his campaign workers at headquarters in East 42nd street early this morning. A band played "hail to the chief" and shouts of "Lehman for President" went up.

Surrounded by his wife, and others of his family, Secretary Walter Brown and about 1,200 party well-wishers, the governor smilingly received the congratulatory telegram from Dewey.

"It has been a strenuous campaign but I never felt better," he said. "The campaign was considerably harder than my previous ones for the governorship."

Senator Robert F. Wagner, author of the Labor Act bearing his name, appeared safe, as was Rep. James M. Mead for the other New York senatorial seat—made vacant by the death of Senator Royal S. Copeland.

Wagner was opposed by John Lord O'Brien, who sharply criticized some phases of the Roosevelt administration, and Mead by Edward F. Corsi, generally regarded as in the liberal Republican camp.

The vote for 8,223 districts gave Wagner 2,411,175 to O'Brien's 1,936,135, and from 8,603 districts Mead had 2,342,715 to Corsi's 1,330,605.

Prestige Involved

The President had strongly and publicly appealed for Lehman, for Wagner and for Mead, and his prestige was directly involved.

The Republicans took control of the State Senate, a circumstance which made complete their domination of the legislature since they already controlled the State Assembly.

The two seats for representative-at-large appeared won by Democrats, one of whom was the incumbent Caroline O'Day, Mrs. (Continued on Page Two)

ULSTER GOES REPUBLICAN

The Republican landslide in Ulster county on Tuesday was simply another vote of confidence on the part of the voters for the honest and efficient administration given the county while under the control of the Republican Party.

When the Republican Party gained control of the county it found it deeply in debt. That debt has been wiped out and today Ulster county is in the forefront of the counties of the state, both financially and in sound administration of its affairs.

It always has been the policy of the Republican Party in this county to select candidates for county office who were capable and efficient. That policy again was in force this year and that it is approved is shown by the majorities given the Republican candidates which ranged from 5,000 to 10,000.

The campaign waged by Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate for governor, was one fought against great odds, and he is to be commended on the closeness of the vote in the state. The vote given Mr. Dewey on Tuesday clearly reveals that the Republican Party is revived, and is regaining its former strength in the state. The Empire State attracted special attention because of its voting power and prestige. It was a spectacular contest with Governor Lehman, Mayor LaGuardia and President Roosevelt fighting together against Mr. Dewey to save the state for the New Deal. Ulster county showed its faith in Mr. Dewey by the overwhelming majority it gave him over Governor Lehman.

During the years that Senator Arthur H. Wicks has represented this district in the State Legislature he has vigorously fought for every measure that would benefit his district, and he has been consistent in his support of measures that were for the best interest of the entire state. His re-election was assured by his record in the Senate.

Assemblyman J. Edward Conway in the State Assembly had made a record that made his re-election a foregone conclusion. That the voters of Ulster county approved his record is shown by the large majority with which he was returned to office.

One of the most consistent foes of the New Deal in Washington has been Congressman Lewis K. Rockefeller. That the stand he has taken on national issues has met the approval of the voters was plainly shown on Tuesday.

In selecting Harry H. Flemming of this city as Surrogate the voters of Ulster county placed the stamp of approval on the policy of the Republican Party in selecting only men qualified to fill the position to which they aspired.

Sheriff Abram Molynaux during his term in office has made many changes in the conduct of the office which have added greatly to the efficiency of the work.

The selection of Republican coroners also was a tribute to their efficiency.

The sweeping Republican victory on Tuesday was no surprise. It was based solely on the record that the party has established since it has been in control of county affairs.

THE LINDBERGH PUZZLE

After a considerable period of the privacy he craved, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has got himself into a prolonged blaze of publicity again. It was in his own favorite sphere of aviation, and resulted from visits to Russia, Germany and France, apparently as an expert and free-lance seeking information about the latest air developments.

He somehow got in bad with Russia, whose aviation authorities have criticized him with unprecedented severity, charging him with slandering their air force. Friends in England have felt obliged to defend him against such charges. New complications have arisen from his association with Nazi officials in Berlin and his acceptance of a gold medal from General Herman Goering, head of the German air force. French and British officials have complained of his reputed criticism of their air defenses.

Last week "Everybody's", a London magazine, made the astonishing statement that the English people, who have treated the famous flyer with respectful consideration during his residence there, would "feel better if he went home." Its implications, however, seem belied in a subsequent announcement by the Soho Weekly of London, that Lindbergh is about to take out British citizenship papers and accept a high civil aviation post in England.

It is very puzzling. The general impression an American gets, however, is that Lindbergh probably would be happier if he were back in the biological laboratory with his friend, Dr. Alexis Carrel, entirely out of the public eye and the public prints for a while.

HIRING PLAN

William H. Hoover, an insurance executive of Birmingham, Ala., has at least the germ of a good idea about getting people back to work. He recently used a full-page ad in the local papers asking all employers to sign a re-employment pledge. They would each promise to hire an additional employee for every ten persons who were working for them on September 1 of this year. The pledge would be binding only when all employers agreed to do likewise.

Then in three months the same employers would repeat the operation. If adopted generally, Mr. Hoover estimates, the plan would employ 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 idle people. Certain objections may easily be found. Not every employer will be able, financially or for lack of equipment, to increase his working force by 10 per cent immediately, and as much again in three months.

The principle, however, seems admirable and timely. A widespread re-employment drive, in all industries and areas, might put American business over the top in a few months. The fundamental causes of the depression, many economists believe, have worked themselves out, and constructive efforts to hasten recovery now move with the current rather than against it.

In spite of the depression, there are no "poor people" any more. There are just "low income groups."

It's all right for the girls to be "glamorous," but we're sort of fed up on glamorous men.

SENSITIVENESS TO SUBSTANCES

It would be safe to say that a large percentage of practicing physicians were taught nothing at medical college about allergy or sensitiveness to various substances because this subject was not recognized as a special branch of medicine until about 1906. In fact, it is only during the past fifteen to twenty years that we have had "specialists" in allergy. This is a most important subject because it is estimated that from 7 to 10 in every hundred of the population are sensitive to various substances. And the fact that a very large number of cases are seen and recognized during the first ten years of life is even more important in that treatment in childhood brings very satisfactory results. This saves much distress and illness in the future.

Dr. Harry L. Bacal, Montreal, in the Canadian Medical Association Journal outlines the various tests to discover the substance causing the symptoms—hay fever, asthma, hives, eczema, rhinitis (running nose), stomach and intestinal upsets, cough. These tests are scratching the skin, injection into the skin, putting substance into eye or nose, keeping substance on skin by adhesive tape, the use of diets and other tests.

Removal of the offending substances.
Avoidance of dust, animal dander, feathers, kapoc, and dusty atmospheres.
Removal of infections—teeth, tonsils, sinuses.
In patients sensitive to foods, avoid these foods, reduce the amount eaten or eat foods of same type that do not cause symptoms.
If the substance cannot be avoided, the individual should be desensitized. This is injecting small quantities of the substance so that his blood and tissues become gradually able to withstand the substance without any symptoms arising. Thus small quantities of the offending food may be eaten at first before the regular meal time or, in the case of hay fever or asthma, injecting the offending pollen such as ragweed.

In cases of hay fever, asthma, running nose and eyes, adrenalin, ephedrin (the Chinese drug), potassium iodide, stramonium, and many other substances may have to be used as symptoms arise.

Allergy

"What is one's man food is another man's poison" is an old saying, but the truth of it is being proven almost daily by leading research physicians throughout the world. Some persons may eat or come in contact with various substances and they will suffer from hay fever, asthma, rhinitis, stomach and intestinal upsets and various other disturbances, while others will suffer no ill effects. Send today for this instructive booklet by Dr. Barton entitled "Allergy" (No. 106) which tells how to discover the offending substances and what to do about them. Send your request to The Bell Library, 247 West 43rd Street, New York, N. Y., enclosing ten cents to cover cost of handling and mention the name of The Kingston Daily Freeman.

THE ARMY POST MURDERS

By Virginia Hanson

The Characters
Katherine Cornell, myself, visiting the colonel's daughter on a mid-western Army post.
Charlie Spencer, my fiancé.
Adam Drew, one of the nicest men I know.

Yesterday: Adam is knocked out on the polo field. Elizabeth carries a gun in her car.

Chapter Five
'Feeling Humble'

"YOU—are you sure you're not hurt?" I asked Adam.
"On the contrary, it hurts like the dickens, but I'll recover. I got out from under very neatly, but one hoof caught me in the middle of next week. I was conscious but numb when young Tarzan, here, snatched me up and swung off through the trees."

Everyone was suddenly helpless with laughter—everyone but Elizabeth.

"That's all very well," she said calmly. "But don't forget you've promised to stop at the hospital for a thorough examination before you go home. For all you know you may have a broken rib."

Adam grimaced. "I've had spurs before."

"Please," I said.

He looked at me very soberly for a moment, an odd, questioning look in his brilliant eyes.

"Of course," he said gently. "But I won't stay home from the party tonight if I have to come in a wheelchair. And if anyone makes a crack about Adam's ribs—"

The game had been abandoned. The horses led away. Somewhere close at hand a bugle broke into urgent summons. Faces turned toward the flag that floated high over headquarters.

Adam released my arm, settled his helmet and stood at salute.

Across the field the cannon crashed and the band struck up the first measured bars of the national anthem. Gracefully, slowly, the flag dipped earthward, tugging reluctantly at its ropes, floated and dipped again, lower and lower, caught at last by many hands and fanned before it touched the ground. Across the lengthening shadows on the plain the last notes of music died away.

"And so goodbye—until later," said Adam.

"Not yet," reminded Elizabeth. "We're going to drop you at the hospital."

We did. Adam submitted gracefully, even saluting us gaily from the door before he disappeared inside. Then, and not until then, did Elizabeth drive on.

She delivered me at the house, gently ordered me to rest and departed again in her little car, murmuring something about sewing and a sergeant's wife.

I wandered into the house, found the colonel's den, shabby and filled with books I inspected the shelves, hoping to find something distracting.

There was a well-worn set of Dickens, a biography of a shelf devoted to heavy tomes or military history, science and tactics; and a stack of decorative volumes that caught my immediate interest. Huzzars! the West Point yearbooks.

Titan A.O.

I DREW out the top one—it was three or four years old—and carried it to the Colonel's chair. It fell open with the obedience of a book often spread at the same page, and I found myself staring at the face of Barney Nelson.

His face changed as I could see. The same rather withdrawn eyes, the immaculately modeled features that made him almost too handsome.

Below the picture was a brief biography. I read it with interest. His name was not Barney, but Bernal, and his name had been many: Swede, Handsome, Barney, Julian. This last was too obscure for me until I glanced at a snapshot in the lower corner of the page. At first sight it was a beautiful, stately blonde in floating draperies and a picture hat. Then I realized that it was Barney, dressed for a Hundredth Night show.

I sat there giggling, picturing the size of him masquerading as a woman. A brief list of honors confirmed my guess: Football Squad, Baseball "A," Corporal, Choir, E. Manager, Hundredth Night.

The biographer in his ideal made cryptic allusion to "you great big handsome man" to a mysterious talent for falling out at parade; to his gifts as a snake, a spoonist; to his bevy of femmes.

I leafed through the book, looking for more acquaintances. I had friends of high rank, and three years later in date for the Academy. I had been pleased by allusions to a Titan A.O.—short for One and Only.

I turned another page. Ah, here was a member of the garrison. Philip Shaw. He it had been Barney's friends of Anne Carver. She was the kind who allowed no one to forget that she was from the East. He had a round, bashful face and strove for a cynical manner.

He had been undistinguished at

MODENA

Modena, Nov. 8.—The Modena A-H Club girls entertained the Clintonville A-H Girls at a Hal-londe party at the Modena School recently. Mr. and Mrs. Bowers, were invited guests. Games were enjoyed and prizes were awarded those appearing in the best costumes. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge and an excellent time was reported.

Local students whose names appeared on the honor roll of the John Borden High School at Wallkill during the first six weeks period are Marjorie Chambers, Jerry Ruth and Paul Arnold, Gloria Patridge, Harold Wager, Helen Stittgen.

Carrie, Evelyn and Lucille Doolittle, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. William Doolittle, sang "Symphony" during the radio program presented over station WGNV, Newburgh, on Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Patridge were callers on Mr. and Mrs.

West Point. Nicknames: Phil, Tubby. His record was in one word: Sharpshooter. His biographer chronicled a long list of mishaps: in the riding hall, at parade; femme trouble. The closing line arrested my attention: "Chief claim to distinction: the man who tried to spoil Swede's beauty."

Hearing Elizabeth's step on the porch, I replaced the Howitzer and chose Little Women at random from the shelves. Then I stood for a moment unnoticed in the library doorway, thinking that Elizabeth looked drawn and tired, and realizing for the first time that the evening might prove an ordeal for her too.

She placed her car keys on a card tray that stood on the hall table, turned and saw me. Her usual gentle smile crossed her face.

"Oh, then you are. We can rest for an hour before we need to dress. Dinner will be at seven-thirty, but I told Anne we'd drive over early. Is that all right with you?"

"Why, certainly," I said, but I was a little puzzled. I had expected Charlie to come for me. Would I never get a word with him alone?

"You, for instance."

I CONTINUED to ask myself that question with growing resentment; for Charlie, tight lipped and evidently stricken, escaped as soon as we rose from the dinner table, with the muttered excuse of an errand at the troop. No one believed him, but Adam tried his best to keep me from noticing that he did not return.

We rode over to the hop together, danced haltingly once around the floor—Adam's dancing is not all it might be—and retired to the club veranda.

Even here the heat was stifling. The hot black folds of the mandarin coat enveloped me like a blanket. Why didn't I take it off? I don't know, except that Elizabeth's views were rather overpowering. From the dusk beside me Adam spoke diffidently.

"If you don't mind being alone for a few minutes I could see if Charlie needs anything. I'm afraid the champagne."

"It isn't the champagne, and you know it," I said wearily. "He's just sulking over Anne's engagement. Let him alone."

Adam can be trusted to say nothing when there is nothing to say.

"Not that I mind being left," I added tardily. "Men are scarce tonight. You go in and dance."

"Not on your life. I've done my duty often enough on this post. Tonight I have a good excuse—I'm a casualty."

"How do you feel, honestly?" "Too good, I think, for a risk of scenery. All right then, honestly, Doc Moore couldn't find anything wrong with me."

"Did he take an X-ray?" "Persistent, aren't you?" He sounded amused. "Yes, he took an X-ray, but it hadn't been developed yet. I'd better be very quiet until it is known."

"Are you sure you wouldn't rather go back to quarters where you can be comfortable?"

He was silent for a minute. "Feeling humble tonight?" "You might call it that."

"You'll take notes. How long? Why don't you take notes on the symptoms? Writers are supposed to capitalize on everything. I suppose you carry a notebook in that little jeweled affair. Go ahead, don't mind me."

Adam's teasing is gentle, but he gets things across. "I don't take notes. It's more fun just to sit and watch people and imagine things about them. I've made up long stories that way—in a restaurant, on the el. I expect I embarrass people."

He chuckled. "Not half as much as I do. I'm no good at imagining. I don't take notes. It's more fun just to sit and watch people and imagine things about them. I've made up long stories that way—in a restaurant, on the el. I expect I embarrass people."

He hesitated, went on smoothly. "There's you, for instance. All during your last visit you were so busy matchmaking for Elizabeth and me," he chuckled, "that all I learned about you is that you live in Chicago with a kid sister who studies music, and that you write for a living."

Anne and Barney skipped out of the club hand in hand, singing lustily. For two or three bars Barney's rich baritone almost drowned Anne's thin, high monotone; then he leaped to a silly falsetto as he leaped her about in the air. She sang in a very loud tone of voice, for he was fearful lest the bears go to sleep before you celebrate your birthdays."

The bonfires were almost out, but the glow remained.

"We aren't even thinking of going to sleep," growled the cub Chubby, and he blinked his eyes to show how wide awake he was.

"That's good," said Willy Nilly, but he spoke in a very loud tone of voice, for he was fearful lest the bears go to sleep before you celebrate your birthdays."

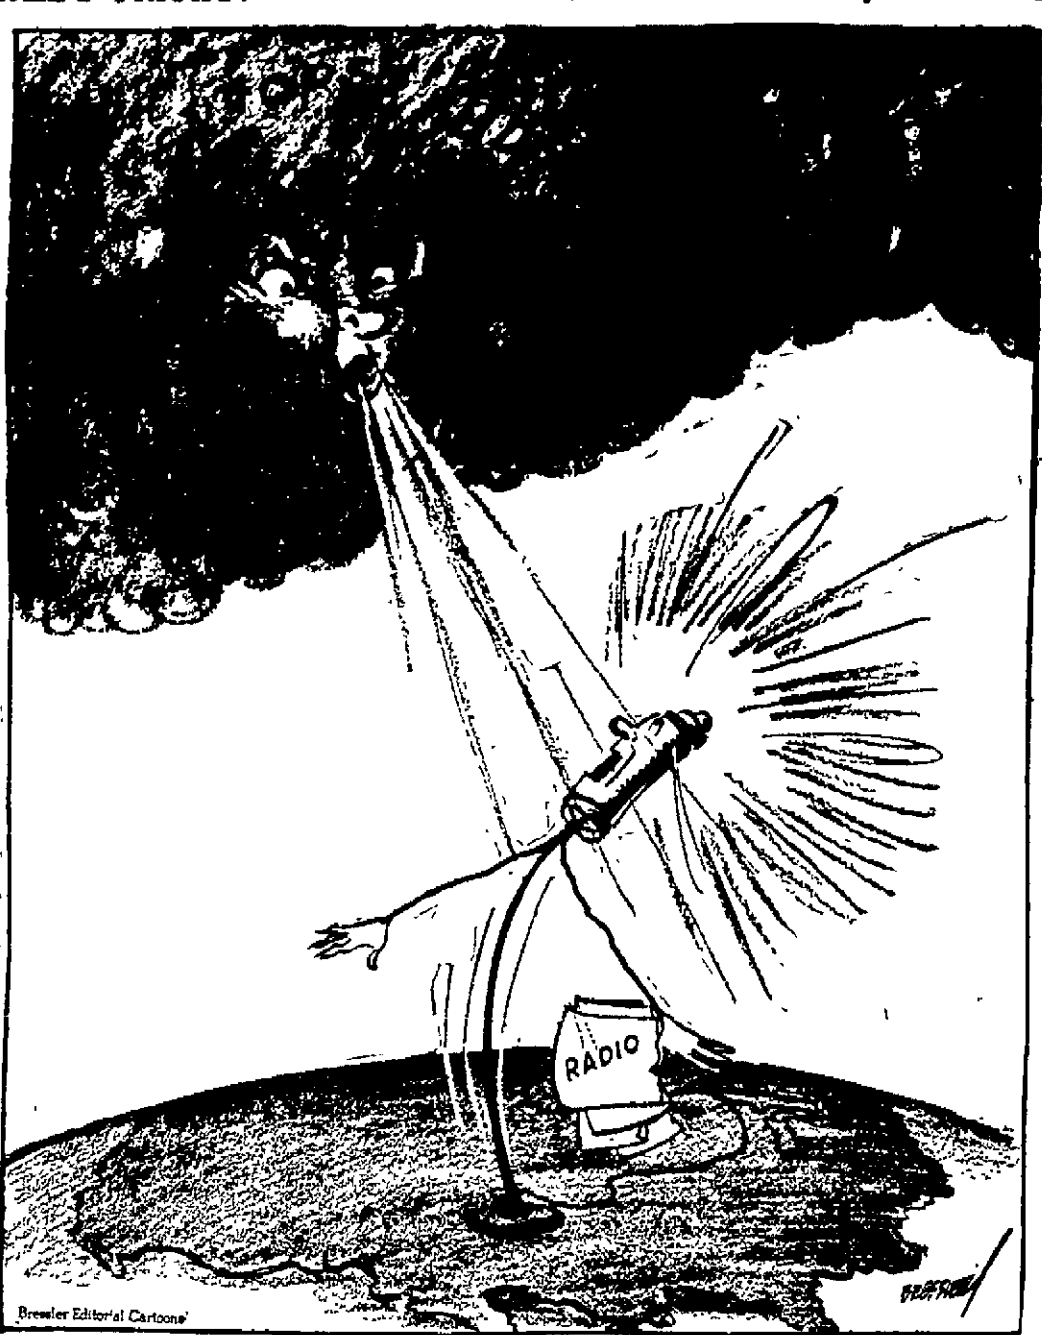

And now he brought forth packages and boxes of food, and everything was beautifully tied up with ribbons and colored, crinkly paper decorating the packages.

You shouldn't have gone to so much fuss and trouble with all the decorations," growled Willy Bear. "We don't deserve so much attention." But Notch thought to himself that it was because the bears were so anxious to get at the food that they didn't want any extra fuss.

"We're celebrating the birthdays of all the bears now! Many happy returns, cried Willy Nilly. And the bears were wide awake until all the food was gone.

"We thank you," they murmured sleepily and closed their eyes.

THE bonfires blazed so merrily and beautifully and the Puddle Muddlers just about decided that the autumn was the loveliest part of the year.

"Of course," cackled Notch, "the spring is a nice season. The earth is so soft, everything is awakening, and there is something about the spring air that is lovely."

"It's when we get up," growled Jelly Bear sleepily.

"You mustn't talk about the time when you get up," said Willy Nilly, "when it's not quite time for you to go to bed."

"Bed," murmured Honey Bear softly. "A bed of leaves, a bed in the cave, a bed for sleep, a bed for sweet dreams."

"Oh," cried Willy Nilly, "you mustn't go to sleep before you celebrate your birthdays."

The bonfires were almost out, but the glow remained.

NEW YORK—Somebody at the meeting of the Society of American Magicians came up with the suggestion that Black Cat Day be set aside each year in honor of the late Harry Houdini, and I am all in favor of the idea.

Black Cat Day, of course, is Halloween, and it was just 12 years ago on Halloween that Houdini died. Twelve years can bring great change in many phases of life, but the Houdini influence is probably stronger today than it ever was.

Anyway, the magic boys on Halloween will invade the hospitals, orphanages, children's homes and schools, displaying their sleight-of-hand gratis to one and all.

WHICH reminds us of the time Paul Duke was playing a theater in a Pennsylvania tank town, and he act wasn't going over so well. His legerdemain somehow just wasn't coming off, and the audience, becoming restive, began tossing little verbal bricks at the harassed magician.

"So you're a magician!" boomed a scornful voice in the audience. "Yes, I am, and what do you want to make of it?" Duke screamed back.

"Then," continued the voice, "how come you can't fill these seats in the balcony?"

And that, the Duke admits, taught him never to argue with a guy sitting out front.

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—One thing demonstrated by the radio fantasy of the attack by Mars on the New Jersey coast is that in times of great excitement our communication system can go hay wire.

This aspect of the situation is no reflection on the telephone company, or the radio people; it is a perennial problem.

By the time Orson Welles' broadcast of the radio play was half finished, newspapers, radio stations, police stations, army posts and other sources of information were swamped by telephone calls. The net result was that even official calls could not get through.

Police in New York City tried vainly for some time to telephone to Columbia Broadcasting company, which staged the fantasy. The officers could not get a line that was not busy with panic calls. Finally a patrol car was sent over to the company studio to learn what the business was all about.

They Call Up Quick
THOUSANDS of radio listeners were bedeviled by the fear that war, either from Mars or from some other fearsome enemy, was being visited upon the country. They rushed to telephone to get advice. Others, pursued by the hysterical belief that the end of the world was at hand or that enemy planes already were roaring over the Atlantic seaboard, telephoned warnings of the disaster to their friends, or passed on hysterical imaginings to the newspapers.

That a similar situation would occur in event of a real attack on the country by real enemies from the air is more than likely. Newspapers have a demonstration of that trouble every election night and on many nights of important football games. Additional switchboards are installed in anticipation of the rush, but even then they are overwhelmed at certain periods during the time the news is hot.

Taste Of War's Confusion
REAL bombs showering by surprise upon seaboard cities would multiply the confusion 10 times over.

The confusion over the Mars attack was confined largely to local calls, since few chose to go to the expense or take the time to tell distant relatives of the doom impending.

But even the long distance can be tied up, along with the telegraph systems, as witness our experience in the time of the latest Mississippi flood disaster or occasionally at Christmas time.

In war time it is likely something would be done about it. Priority calls would be routed through special channels. But if any solution has been found to meet the emergency of a telephone-conscious American public rushing to grab up the receiver in moments of curiosity or peril, we have heard nothing of it.

They block up all the regular channels, flood public switchboards, and tie up most of the channels through which they could receive necessary information.

Armistice Day at St. John's

Armistice Day has been set apart by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Protestant Episcopal Church as a quiet day for prayer. All members of the church are asked to go to the church at some time during the day for a quiet hour of prayer. Special leaflets with appropriate prayers and meditations have been provided and may be found on the literature table in the vestibule.

Junior Hadassah Holds Stag Dance

On Sunday night Junior Hadassah held a stag dance and floor show at the Merry-Go-Round. The affair was most successful and far surpassed the expectations of the dance committee. The floor show included the Horton Sisters, Dixie Dickson, blue singer from WOKO; Ralph Morello and Joseph Naccar, who played the guitar; Madeline Horton, tap dancer; Don Durand, magic artist, and Maxine Horton. The entertainment closed with an old time song fest. Vince Edwards and orchestra supplied the music. The dance committee is shown above, left to right, seated: Sylvia Siller, Esther Goldman, Marion Zwick, Sophie Weiner, chairman of the dance committee, and Mildred Cohen. Left to right, standing: Ann Welsman, Sayde Lutzin, Hilda Spelman, Edith Epstein and Ida Spelman.

Color Is Dominating Theme in Fashions

Color is the dominating theme in fashions; black set off with a flash of high color; wine played against teal and the other blues, two or three colors daintily contrasted in one outfit will make a woman out of all of us this season. Such is the report brought back by Mrs. Lawrence who attended Wards Semi-Annual Congress in New York last week. This fashion congress is of national-wide scope. Miss Olive Smith, well-known New York fashionist, is in complete charge. She brings news of the new fashions to the various fashion heads assembled for this event. Trends, merchandise and how to completely outfit women correctly are the main topics of discussion.

Mrs. Lawrence reports that New York's Fifth Avenue is a veritable page torn from the family album. Dresses like grandmothers were have been adapted to give us more flattery than anything we've worn in a decade. Massive jeweled trims complete the "old-fashioned quaintness" of afternoon types. Gone is the casual youngster of last year, and in her place appears the perfectly groomed, perfectly poised woman. A woman who wears a sky-climbing hat atop her piled-up curls; a woman who achieves drama with a luxurious fur-cloaked coat; a woman who combines the directness of 1938 with the demureness of daguerrotype gowns.

Mrs. Lawrence quotes Miss Olive Smith as saying "Above all there is no set rule for this season other than 'Dress up.' There are as many variations of these new ideas as there are women to wear them."

Baptist Church To Give Musical

This coming Sunday there will be a special musical service at the Albany Avenue Baptist church at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Parker Wilson, from Newburgh, will be the guest soloist. Mrs. Wilson is a soprano singer of unusual ability and has a voice of wide range and singular tone. She will sing two solos during the evening.

Other parts will be taken by the well-known Albany Avenue male quartet. There will be three quartet numbers, and solos as follows: "Baritone solo, "Deep River," sung by Harold S. Brigham; tenor solo, "The Holy City," by William Hooker; and a tenor solo, "The Stranger of Galilee," given by Mr. Canfield. Mrs. Decker, the organist, will give some special organ numbers including "Liebestraume," by Liszt. Mrs. Asenath Hayes is the choir director.

A brief and appropriate message will be given by the pastor, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, but the service as a whole will be given over to music and the selections are of an inspiring and uplifting character.

Home Service

Perfect Your Dancing By Practicing at Home

Dance the Glamorous Rumba Joan and Dick couldn't have danced so smartly a few months ago. But look at them now! That sophisticated rumba they learned by practicing at home from diagrams.

Clever, the subtle swaying of the hips as they switch weight from one foot to the other. And how expertly they combine short quick steps and languorous pauses in real rumba style.

You'll find it easy, too, to step out to thrilling colorful music in gay rumba variations. Try this Habana Turn: 1—Take a short step back on the left foot. AND—Take a short step back on right foot. 2—Take a short step back on left foot. PAUSE for half a beat. 3 AND 4—Continue the circle by taking three more quick steps, right, left, right. Repeat till a circle is completed.

Do all the latest dances as easily as that! In our 35-page booklet a famous dance teacher shows with step-by-step instructions and diagrams how to do basic steps and new variations—in the dreamy waltz, graceful tango, spirited rumba, popular Westchester fox-trot and shag.

Send 10c in coin for your copy of HOME COURSE IN NEW BALLROOM DANCES to The Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 635 Sixth Ave., New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties. BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls who are full of pep. So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 3 generations one woman has told another how to go "miling" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders. You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

KIN-FOLK!

HEM AND AMY

SPOKE TOO SOON

By Frank H Beck

CAT—WEDNESDAY, NOV. 9.
The Modern Way
"I did not ask the price," said Mabel with a frown.
"I only want to know how much I must pay down."

Customer—With prices rising as they are you must be making lots of money.
Dealer—Not exactly. My customers merely owe me more.

The Hypocrite
I go the straight and narrow way, and walk therein day after day; For this is what I know is right—but, try to follow me at night!

Mrs. King was discussing the latest fashions with a caller.
Mrs. King—Did you say your husband was fond of those clinging gowns, Mary?
Mary—Yes, he likes one to cling to me for about three years.

Mary had a little lamb,
But when she started cuttin'
She found it was to her dismay,
A piece of tough old mutton

Efficiency Expert—You are wasting too much time on your personal appearance.
Typist—It's not wasted. I've been here only six months, and already I'm engaged to the junior partner.

Corrected this sentence: "When I pronounce a word incorrectly," said the educated lady, "I am glad to be corrected."

The child took a long look at the old man and asked:
Child—Were you in the ark, grandpa, when the flood came?
Aged man—No, certainly not, my child.
Child—Then why weren't you drowned?

It is always well to play safe.
It was late at night; the taxi had just pulled up to the curb and McPherson got out and began fumbling in his pocket. At last he handed the driver a coin.
"I have known cents that give a bit over," grumbled the taxi-driver.
"Ay," said McPherson. "That's why I asked ye to stop under a lamp."

If all the brides could put their first biscuits together we could build enough roads to cover the whole country.

Ginsberg was riding in a taxicab when the driver suddenly lost control and the car sped forward at a terrific rate.
"Hey!" yelled Ginsberg in alarm. "What's the matter?"
"I don't know," answered the driver grimly. "I can't stop her."
"Well, for heaven's sake!" Ginsberg shouted, "can't you at least turn off the meter?"

If you don't want Jimmy to have to go to war, help get the country armed until we'd be safe from attack on any sort of aggression. Do you want him to have to go? Vote for the fellows for congress who are determined that the country must stand as nearly as they can make it, naked and condemned before its enemies.

Doctor—What kind of a nurse do you want?
Victim—Did you wire for my wife?
Doctor—Yes, we did.
Victim—Then a homely nurse will do.

Personal Notes
Ellenville, Nov. 8.—Miss Mildred White of Rockville Center, L. I., spent the week-end with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Frear.
Mr. and Mrs. John Mithalke and Miss Mary Krom and daughter, Miss Mary Krom, of Ontario, spent Sunday with the former's daughter, Miss Edith Mithalke, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Zupp.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank P. Gallacher are enjoying two weeks' vacation with relatives and friends at Comstock and Brooklyn, N. Y.
Miss Katherine Dowling has accepted a position in the office of Attorney John Bonomi.

Miss Betty Bartholomew entertained four tables at contract bridge at her home Saturday evening. Prizes were won by Mrs. Wallace Strevel and Mrs. Harold Ferguson.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johnson of Queens Village, L. I., visited relatives in town on Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Saylor, Mrs. Helen Saylor and Miss Linnea Marshall left for a two weeks' vacation trip to Miami, Tampa and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Motion Picture Suits
The Department of Justice recently filed suit in the United States district court in New York City against the "Big Eight" motion picture corporations and asked that they be declared unlawful, as a monopoly in the restraint of trade, a violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By Robin Coon

HOLLYWOOD—Eddie Albert has clicked. Rock Island, Ill., can run up the flag for a native son who made good in his first movie, Minneapolis, Minn., can rah-rah for the home-town boy who ran away with "Brother Rat."

Eddie is back in New York now. He came from there—from "Room Service"—to do the movie "Brother Rat." He'll be back, and Hollywood will be waiting for him with parts. Hollywood thinks it has found an actor—and another proof that a collar-and-face is excess baggage when it comes to movie clicking.

Eddie isn't another Robert Taylor. He isn't a new Clark Gable. He won't send Jimmy Cagney into retirement. He's a plain lad with a gift for being funny and pathetic at the same time, for acting rings when he comes to movie clicking.

PERSONALLY, I hadn't realized the extent of Eddie's success until I talked to Marie Wilson. Marie's ambition is still—guess—to learn how to act. Seeing Eddie Albert act depresses her.

"I see him," says Marie, "and I get wrothy. How can I ever get to be that good?"

But Marie is still one of our most amazing—and sweet—characters. The girl who wrote her own script for her first screen test had just been writing her own script for an appearance at a U.S.C. football rally.

"If we lose the first quarter, boys, even if we lose the second quarter, why, even if we lose our last quarter—what of it? Money isn't everything!"

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Doctor's Dollars
Monticello, N. Y.—For 60 years Dr. Frederick A. McWilliams, a horse-and-buggy physician of the old school, treated the ailing of Sullivan county, charging only 50 cents a visit.

Because he lived in a small apartment, charged so little and prepared his own prescriptions, his neighbors thought him poverty-stricken.

They learned today that Dr. McWilliams, who died last August, left an estate valued in surrogate's court at $250,000.

New Habits
New York—Week-end jaunts from New York to Paris, London, Berlin, or Moscow will be commonplace within five years, says Eddie Rickenbacker, World War ace.

He said craft flying 300 miles an hour at altitudes of 20,000 to 30,000 feet would make such excursions possible.
"It's feasible today," he said "it will be a habit in five years."

In the Bag
Hampshire, Ill.—Henceforth, mail delivered to this little town from the Milwaukee Railroad dier will be in the mail sacks.

Three times in the past week mail sacks tossed from the flyer were drawn under the train wheels by suction and much of the mail was lost.
The flyer now will make a five-minute stop and the mail will be taken into the station.

Fortune Lost and Found—Cedar Rapids, Ia.—What would you do if you found $9,300 in currency in the street?

An unidentified woman, according to police records, found that amount in $50 and $100 bills here.

What did she do with it? She returned it to the owner, Mrs. Charles J. Stewart, who earlier had reported to police she lost that amount while carrying it in "a dirty pink rag purse."

HOME BUREAU
Accord
An interesting lesson on foundation garments was given at the home of Mrs. Archie Hall Davis on October 25, when Mrs. Millman explained the requirements for intelligent buying and fitting of these garments. It is important to know one's measurements and insist upon obtaining the correct size and also know the type and style best suited to one's figure. Mrs. Millman brought several garments which proved a great value in helping those present decide on which style was best for them. Twelve members and one visitor were present.

Total Eclipse of the Moon

Taken with the 24-inch reflecting telescope in the observatory of the Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, these photographs, made by James Stokely, director of the Fels planetarium, show the emergence of the moon from the earth's shadow at the end of the total eclipse. The first, upper left, was made about 6:15 p. m., eastern standard time, the fourth, lower right, an hour later.

on November 10, at 10 a. m. Each one is to bring a box lunch. Members present at the meetings were: Mrs. Earl Schoonmaker, Mrs. Elmer Smith, Miss Bertha Coons, Mrs. A. Chart, Mrs. M. Pratt, Mrs. H. M. Eppes, Mrs. A. J. Sahler, Mrs. A. Hall Davis, Miss Edna Baker, Mrs. M. H. Davis, Mrs. Helen Anderson, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. L. J. Haines, Mrs. William Countryman, Mrs. V. Barnhart, Mrs. J. Now it is known that the stamp in No. 2 position (upper right corner) is the one without the little cross-bars in the corners, and that the stamp in No. 3 position (lower left) has right-leaning cross-bars in both upper corners and left-leaning ones in the lower corners. Nos. 1 and 4 present other minor but distinct differences. No. 2 stamp differs further from its fellows by having a strip of additional curlicues above the postulated of the cross-bars used on the other three.

Scott catalogues all three values of the Uniontown set on gray blue laid paper and the same also on white paper. The newly found sheet, printed in the usual dark blue ink of the 2-cent,

P. N. Booker, who was postmaster of Uniontown in 1861, printed these provisionals. They are hand-set and made up chiefly of type curlicues—stamps such as these, which are common in the small town printing office. They might have produced on short order.

But studying the less rare 5-cent value of the set, philatelists learned that the three dominations—2, 5 and 10-cent—were printed in four settings of two rows of two.

Collectors knew there were four separate and distinct types of stamps, but they could not complete the job of relating to say which type fitted into which position of the little sheet, until the recent find.

Like many other southern postmasters, Mr. Booker found it necessary in 1861 to provide temporary stamps to be used until regular adhesives could be supplied by the postoffice department of the Confederacy. The Standard Catalogue lists 90 towns and cities of the south which produced such provisionals that first year of the War Between the States.

Thomas E. Dewey, Republican, won an election held at the high school over Governor Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat, by a vote of 929 to 606, it was announced today. The election was held during the lunch period Monday.

A HUMAN SERVICE

To the average person, the services performed by a funeral director are vague and little understood, and consequently are turned away from as anything related to the great unknown. That is a feeling Bruck Home for Funerals seeks constantly to avert, by its effort to make genuine human sympathy the greatest factor of its services.

Favorable News Continues for the Heavy Industries

The stock market displayed unexpected activity for a before election session, on Monday, and with transactions totaling 1,760,000 shares, industrial issues made new highs, closing at 154.91, up 2.79 points for the day in the Dow-Jones averages. Ralls gained 0.26 point, to 32.94 and utilities were up 0.42 point, to 24.01. Continued favorable news for the heavy industries is noted. Steel operations for the week are scheduled at 61 per cent of capacity, as against 56.8 the previous week and the rate of output now is the highest since the week ended October 11, 1937. The industry is now on a profitable basis for the first time in about a year. Some of the companies had net profits in October and good earnings generally are looked for this month.

Railroad equipment firms reported a more favorable trend of business in October, with 23 locomotives and 2,435 freight cars booked for domestic users. Brazilian road has placed orders with American Locomotive for four engines. A special committee, composed of representatives of the railroads and rail labor met in joint session Monday. Expect to have a program ready in January for rehabilitating the railroads of the country. The Farm Administration will make an aggressive attempt to sell wheat in South America markets in direct competition with Argentina. The trade balance with Brazil is favorable for capturing a share of this market. Formal announcement of a consent decree on the part of Chrysler, Ford and the Department of Justice, in the automobile financing cases, was announced Monday. The case against General Motors will be prosecuted.

Statement is made that the Department of Justice contemplates a drive on competitive advertising as a bulwark of monopoly. This action, if carried out, would lead color to the charge that has been frequently made that the New Deal is inimical to advertising. Among articles mentioned as being affected by economically wasteful advertising are gasoline and milk.

United Airlines had net income of $115,000 in the quarter ended September 30, vs. net of $411,664 in the corresponding quarter last year. Murray Corp. of America had loss of $687,856 in the quarter, vs. net income in the 1937 quarter of $173,135. American stocks were firmer on the London market Tuesday, following strength shown in New York Monday. Major commodity markets abroad also were firmer. Loew's, Inc. and Twentieth Century are showing earnings equal to or better than a year ago; Warner Bros. are running behind 1937 and Paramount has shown a sharp drop.

Reports from 101 Reserve banks in leading cities show business loans of $16,000,000 during the week ended November 2. Charging failure to live up to wage scale agreement 150 men in the McLachlin Hat Co. plant at Danbury, Conn., went on strike Monday, closing the plant. Decision is to be made this week on petition of Western Union and other communications companies to pay messengers less than the 25 cents an hour minimum wage.

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—The stock market moved forward to day in a broad post-election advance, buoyed by one of the heaviest buying tides of the year. Near the final hour, prices on the average were about the highest of the 1933 bull movement. Many issues showed gains of 1 to 4 points.

The rush to buy ended the pre-election trading lull and set a pace of around 3,000,000 shares for the full session.

Rails were slower to follow the rise. Forging ahead to new 1933 highs were such issues as United States Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, Consolidated Edison, du Pont, Goodyear, Santa Fe and General Electric.

Recovery in bonds also was resumed, particularly in secondary corporate issues. Gains in most commodities were moderate.

Local Death Record

Last rites at the grave of Robert H. Johnston will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the plot in the Montrose cemetery.

James, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Guinac of Shokan, died in Kingston Monday, November 7, after a brief illness. He is survived by his parents and one sister, Frances, at home. Funeral services and burial today were private.

Martin O'Marra, a former resident of Kingston, died on Monday at his home, 2565 Grand Concourse, New York city. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Alice Townsend O'Marra, and a brother, the Rev. Patrick O'Marra of St. Vernon. A high requiem Mass will be offered in Our Lady of Mercy Church in New York on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Burial will be in New York. Mr. O'Marra left Kingston about ten years ago to make his home in New York.

Mary E. Doyle, wife of the late Rufus Craig died at the Kingston Hospital yesterday. Funeral services will be held from her home, 53 Hoffman street, Friday at 1:30 o'clock. Burial will take place in the Pine Plains cemetery, Pine Plains. Mrs. Doyle is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Joseph Morehouse of Cranford, N. J., Mrs. Berter Parsell of Staten Island, Miss Frances Burnett at home and two sons George Burnett at home and Frederick Burnett of Poughkeepsie. Also surviving are eight grandchildren.

New Paltz, Nov. 9.—The funeral of David Sutton, 72, was held at his home in Clinton on Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 10 o'clock. The Rev. W. L. Schuler, of New Paltz, officiated. Mr. Sutton was born in Putnam, the son of Thomas M. and Gertrude Proctor Sutton. He had spent practically all of his life in this vicinity. In addition to his wife, Mr. Sutton is survived by a son Harry Sutton, a grandson Marshall Sutton, a student at Colgate University; a brother, Irving D. Sutton, of New Paltz; and two sisters, Mrs. George Gunalus of Highland, and Mrs. Ezra Egan, of Ohioville.

The funeral of Virgil B. Van Wageningen, for years one of the leading members in the legal and banking circles of Kingston and Ulster county, was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home, 144 Elmendorf street. The Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, pastor of the Fair street Reformed Church, officiated and paid a high tribute to the life and works of Mr. Van Wageningen. The services were largely attended with many prominent members of the Ulster County Bar and banking circles in attendance, as well as many friends. A number of residents of New York city also attended the funeral. There was a profusion of flowers. Burial was made in Wiltwyck Cemetery. The bearers were Peter Black, Harold Clayton, Charles de la Vergne, Frederick Osterhout, of Shandaken; William L. Krum of High Falls; Lloyd LeFever, Holt N. Winfield, A. B. Shufeldt, Dr. Frederic Holcomb, Andrew J. Cook and Harry Ensign.

The funeral of Mrs. Consetta Tesoro was held this morning at 9:30 o'clock from the late home at 650 Broadway and at 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church, where a solemn requiem Mass was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Louis M. Cusack, celebrant, the Rev. John Simmons as deacon, and the Rev. Edmund Burke as sub-deacon. The church was filled with her many relatives and friends from all parts of the city. The Rev. Bartholomew M. Pizuto, pastor of Our Lady of Pompeii Church of Dobbs Ferry, a close friend of the family sat in the chancel during the Mass. The children's choir sang the responses during the Mass and at the conclusion they sang the "Miserere." A profusion of beautiful floral pieces completely filled the repose room at the home. Casket bearers were Jasper Maltalo, Anthony Erena, Thomas Donato, Herbert Simonetti, John Maloney and William Connors. A large funeral cortege accompanied the body to St. Mary's cemetery where the interment was made in the

Settlement of Spanish Conflict

With the most serious concern and misgivings we read reports that the powers which betrayed and dismembered the democracy of Czechoslovakia are preparing a settlement of the Spanish conflict. It is evident that any settlement proposed by these powers, under the guise of "mediation," will constitute a serious menace, not only to the preservation of freedom in Spain, but to democracy everywhere, including our sister democracies in South America. Is the United States going to stand helplessly by and watch this happen? This is no longer a question only of justice to the Spanish Republic.

The American League for Peace and Democracy will hold a public meeting on Tuesday evening, November 15, to discuss this question. Dr. Edward K. Barsky will speak on "Shall Spain be a Second Czechoslovakia?" Dr. Barsky until recently commanded all the foreign medical units in Spain. He is an attendant in the Beth Israel Hospital, New York city, and a surgeon of note.

The meeting will be held at the Uptown Community Center, corner of Franklin and 14th streets, at 8:15 p. m.

St. Joseph's Card Party To Be Held Thursday

A card party for the benefit of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church will be held in St. Joseph's School Hall Thursday evening. The committee has arranged that all who wish to attend will enjoy a pleasant evening. Tables will be provided for coffee, bridge and progressive play. Play will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Miss Theresa V. Murphy is acting general chairman.

family plot. The Rev. Father Pizuto assisted by the Rev. Father Simmons gave the final obituary at the grave.

The funeral of August Treadle, who died at his home in Maple Hill Saturday, was held from his late residence Tuesday at 2:30, and at St. Peter's Church, Rosendale, at 10 o'clock, where a solemn high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of his soul by the Rev. William J. McDonald, celebrant, the Rev. William H. Kennedy as deacon and the Rev. Henry Herdgen as sub-deacon. The funeral was one of the largest ever held in St. Peter's Church. The choir sang the responses and at the recessional Frank Maloney sang "Sweet Savior Bless Us as We Go." The large number of floral offerings and spiritual benedictions which were sent to the home bespoke in a silent manner the esteem in which Mr. Treadle and his family were held. The bearers were Joseph Mooney, Martin Costello, John Doyle, Frank Grimm, Fred Yunker and Peter Forgy. Burial was made in the family plot in St. Peter's Cemetery where the Rev. Father McDonald gave the final obituary.

Police Seek Aid Of Bloodhounds To Find Hunter

A call was sent to Troop K, Hawthorne barracks this noon for Trooper Horton and the Troop K bloodhounds to assist in the search for Levi Deyo of 555 Broadway, who up to that time had not returned from a hunting trip in The Clove neighborhood near High Falls.

William Tubby of 23 Ravine street reported to the sheriff's office at six o'clock last night that he and his brother with Deyo had gone hunting yesterday morning and that they had not seen him since 11 o'clock in the morning.

Tubby said that the district in which they were hunting was new to Deyo. This morning Trooper Arthur Rath set out to investigate and with no success. A call for the bloodhounds was sent in. Sergeant Cunningham, with Troopers Keefe, Metzger and Reynolds, planned on joining in the search this afternoon, with Deputy Sheriff's Vredenburg and Brown.

Deyo was described as a man of 25 to 30 years of age, about five feet seven inches in height and weighing around 150 pounds. He wore brown coat and pants.

Voters Accept 4 State Amendments

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Incomplete returns indicated today that New York voters accepted four constitutional amendments and rejected three. Fate of the two others was doubtful, with comparatively small margins indicating their probable adoption.

The three proposals stressed the most in campaign speeches were turned down by substantial majorities. They were No. 2, which would reappoint Senate and Assembly all-riots, thus increasing membership in both branches of the Legislature; No. 6, to create a truth judicial district and provide judicial review on both law and fact of administrative agency decision; and No. 7, to prohibit election of public officials by any system of proportional representation.

The voters declared a "bill of rights" for labor by adopting the sixth proposal providing for minimum wage, maximum hours, and the right of workers to organize and bargain collectively. Another "liberal" amendment adopted as the fourth, which authorized the state to borrow $300,000,000 for low-cost housing.

ing and slum clearance and to expand the debt limit of cities.

The citizenry, by approving the third proposal, reduced the railroads' share of the cost of grade-crossing eliminations from 50 per cent to 15, and by approving the eighth amendment permitted the use of state funds for social welfare and provided, by insurance or otherwise, against the hazards of unemployment, illness and old age.

In doubt with about two-thirds of the election districts reported were the first and ninth amendments. The first, an omnibus proposition providing, among other things, broader home rule and permanent registration of voters, had a majority of about 10,000 votes in the "yes" column.

The ninth, permitting New York city to purchase and unify its transit facilities, was adopted by about 137,000.

Colonials Open Season Against Jewels at Auditorium Tonight

Pro Basketball Expects to Draw Capacity Crowd Teams Anxious

Both Clubs Count of Victory to Prove Their Strength in League—Sedran—Promises Winners

Professional basketball makes its seasonal debut at the municipal auditorium tonight with the new Kingston Colonials meeting Honey Russell's New York Jewels.

The match is an exhibition, as a preview of the American League opening here next week when Charlie Huston's Trojans invade the Broadway cage to tangle with Barney Sedran's band of cagers.

Both of the clubs in tonight's battle are league teams, and there is equal anxiety on the part of each to win, even though the game is an exhibition affair.

"I know tonight's game means a lot," said Manager Sedran, who has revamped Kate Smith's Celtics. "Kingston fans want a winning combination and that's what I mean to give them."

"My club has always fought in Kingston contests, and Sedran can look for no easy out tonight," remarked Russell. "The Jewels will be in that battle every second. They are out to win."

Starting time of the game is 9 o'clock. There will be a preliminary between the Clermonts and the Leonard Refrigerators, beginning at 7:30, and this match promises a lot of action for those who arrive early.

With an almost complete sell-out on reserved seats, a full house is expected. Talk among bleacher customers indicates that they will be out in full strength, taxing the capacity of the rush seat sections. The local committee in charge of running basketball requests that as many as can be around early to avoid a last minute jam at the box office.

Tonight's lineups: Kingston—Berenson, Reiser, Pfeigl, Kramer, Bender, Fitzpatrick, Johnson, Kaplan and Frauke.

Jewels—Pilkington, Slott, Kinbrunner, Kuperberg, Spudell, Russell, Schuckman and Volpi. In the prelim, the Clermonts will take the court with the well known Brock brothers, Charley and Eddie; Hank Krum, Knute Belchert, Eddie Bahl, Don Boyce and Whitey Myers. The Leonard's will have Babe Coughlin, Jim Alhany, Chappie Cooper and several other stars in their lineup.

Michigan Heads For Tough Game

Chicago, Nov. 9 (AP)—Michigan's football fortunes once again are rocketing toward the heights—powered by remarkable team spirit, ball carrying backs with whirlwind speed and blockers who like to "knock 'em into the nickel seats."

This week finds Michigan heading toward the most important game of the abbreviated Big Ten schedule—its game with Northwestern. Victory over Northwestern would make Michigan a strong favorite for at least a slice of the Big Ten title, and victory for the Wolverines over Ohio State a week from Saturday might find them sole holders of the crown.

The Wolverines have lost only to Minnesota this season—and that defeat came on a 7-6 margin after Michigan had outplayed the Gophers. Michigan State, Chicago, Yale, Illinois and Pennsylvania have fallen before the Crisis aggregation.

Kelly's Corner

Syracuse Prizes Maines—Newburgh's Night Football By Joe Kelly

Syracuse wishes Kingston could send up a few more boys like Tommy Maines. Mace Gerber is the authority for this. He visited the university last week while touring up state. Maines is certain of a varsity berth next year. He's the talk of the school and predictions are that he'll be one of the outstanding backfielders next fall. This makes Jack Dawkins feel like a peacock. Maines helped Jack's team to win the City Baseball League pennant and the Sheriff Molynaux trophy. Last night Jack was one of the first to congratulate the sheriff on his re-election. Don't forget that Kingston High-Highland game Friday afternoon at the Athletic Field. Newburgh Free Academy is going in for night football. The first game under flood lights at Recreation Park in the Hill City is Friday, with Binghamton Central High furnishing the opposition.

See you all at the basketball game tonight in the auditorium. Don't forget, the starting time is 9 o'clock instead of the later hour. There should be lots of action as the new Colonials, formerly Kate Smith's Celtics, tangle with Honey Russell's New York Jewels. Kingston is anxious for a win to fortify itself for the first American League duel next week. The basketball squad at HANDSOME IS as handsome does, snagging a pass one-handed. This is Mac's pride, Alex McCaskill, a Georgia end.

White Eagles Win 1st Game, Crusaders Here Next Week

'Big Names' Out As Managers

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Possibly overlooked in the midst of the football excitement is the revolution going on in baseball managerial circles. Club owners have decided all at once that they do not need "big-name" pilots with the attendant big-figure salaries.

Gaze upon the appointments made recently: Ray Blades, St. Louis Cardinals; Fred Haney, St. Louis Browns; Del Baker, Detroit; Doc Prothro, Philadelphia Nationals; Leo Durocher, Brooklyn Dodgers. There's not a glamor boy in the bunch.

Headliners tossed into the discard, included Frankie Frisch, Mickey Cochrane, Gabby Street, Burleigh Grimes, Jimmy Wilson, Charley Grimm and Babe Ruth. The Babe actually applied for this job with the Browns.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press) Montreal—Al McCoy, 181½, Quebec, outpointed Bob Olin, 183½, New York (10).

Houston, Tex.—Kenney La Salle, 145, Houston, outpointed Eddie McGeever, Scranton, Pa. (10).

Los Angeles—Kui Kong Young, 115, San Francisco, outpointed Manuel Ortiz, 115½, Los Angeles (10).

Kingston High has been cut to 45. At least three more slashes are due. The first DUSO Leaguer is at Port Jervis on December 9. Dick Whiston is in charge of cage activities until Coach Kias finishes with football. Tony Galento, No. 1 contender, is doing his best to force Champion Joe Louis into a fight. Tonight's prelim at the auditorium brings together the Clermonts and Leonard Refrigerators of the City League. Carmine Fatta was never more anxious than he is about that scrap with Vince Sempervino. Fans are wondering what chance Monk Armstrong will have with Red Vau Aistyne. We hope Monk's right hand, the one he injured last week, will be okay. Don't forget, the fights are next Monday instead of this Friday. Talk of a return middleweight title go between Solly Keiger and Al Hostak in Seattle next summer. But Solly is back in New York. And so's the heavy pickin'. The horses are pouring into Santa Anita which means that winter is on the way. There is a whisper that Minnesota Bernie Bierman is getting offers from a couple of coast colleges. Dolly Tessio's White Eagles won by a shade over St. Joseph's Alumni of Poughkeepsie in their opener last night. His team played such a hard game that Dolly took an extra rest this morning.

Night Football For Newburgh Free Academy

Newburgh Free Academy will play its first night game in history Friday, meeting Binghamton Central High School at Recreation Park. Starting time of the game is 8 o'clock.

It is the expectation of Newburgh school authorities that the night game will draw a crowd in that it affords a chance to business men and other workers who are busy on Saturday afternoons.

Couch C. E. Stevens says: "Local interest is running high and an exceptionally large turnout is expected. I wouldn't be surprised if it least 5,000 witnessed the contest."

Recreation Park has a seating capacity of 2,000. There are 700 seats in the covered stand. Binghamton Central has a good record for the season, and should give the Newburghers a hard test. The upstater defeated Utica Free Academy, another strong team, 42-0.

There will be a preliminary at 6:45 o'clock between the Newburgh Junior Varsity and Walden High School, which latter team boasts a clean slate this season.

PUNTS AND PASSES

(By The Associated Press)

Alton, Ill.—Shurtleff College claims the longest and shortest penalties of the 1938 football season. Slugging cost the Pioneers 47 yards on one occasion, but another time an offside set them back only three inches. Shurtleff also presents Leonard R. tackle, as its gift to headline writers.

New York—Paul Sullivan, Erasmus Hall High School coach who prepared Sid Luckman for stardom, claims his new prospect, Max Reubenfeld, is a better passer than Sid was at a corresponding stage in his career. "The boy is cool under fire and spots his receiver under the most difficult conditions," says Sullivan. Proof: Max completed six out of ten passes and figured in three out of four touchdowns as Erasmus beat its old rival, Manual Training, 26-0, yesterday.

West Point, N. Y.—Army's football squad has found it is possible to play indoors, so now they ought to get in more preparation than ever for their big games. The Cadets had their first workout in the new field house yesterday. It's big enough for a regulation gridiron, including end zones, has a clay floor, well padded with redwood bark, and is a lot more comfortable than the outdoor practice field when it's raining or snowing.

Young Judaeans To Reorganize

A reorganization meeting will be held by the Young Judaeans Club tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the Hebrew School on Post street, and officers will be elected. Committees will be appointed to formulate a program. Rabbi Morris Iserowitz will serve as advisor to the club.

Indianapolis—Everett Marshall, 224, Lajunta, Colo., defeated John Graunovich, 225, New York, straight falls; Buck Weaver, 130, Terre Haute, downed Ray Schwarz, 181, Newark; Ray Eckert, 216, St. Louis, pinned Tom Marvin, 220, Oklahoma.

Kingston Preps For Highland Game on Friday

Kingston High School football varsity began workouts yesterday afternoon in preparation for its exhibition duel, Friday afternoon, at the Athletic Field with Highland High School team.

In this Armistice Day grid battle, the men of Coach G. Warren Kias hope to show plenty of strength in preparation for their DUSO League tilt with Newburgh, and those who attend may hope to see some good hard play on the part of the locals.

Kingston showed exceptionally well last week-end in defeating Middletown, 20-0, the aerial attack of the Kiasmen shunting out like the evening star. That Vince Stoll-Bill Von Essen passing combination had the Middletowners started.

The Maroon and White Agues to win over Highland, and then to roll up a victory over Newburgh in the hope of being in on the DUSO League championship.

Kingston's only hope of the DUSO pennant is a Newburgh victory and a win for Middletown over Port Jervis Thanksgiving Day.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

Kingston Approves All but Two Amendments

Two amendments of the nine voted on Tuesday were defeated in Kingston. The first was No. 5, the judiciary, and the other, No. 7, was proportional representation. The seven other amendments were carried in the city by varying majorities. The amendment which received the largest vote cast was No. 3, which provided that the state pay the entire cost of grade crossing eliminations. A total of 7,739 votes were cast for this amendment of which 5,490 were in favor and 1,889 opposed. The total number of votes cast in Kingston for candidates was 13,634, which shows that but slightly over half of the voters of the city were engaged in the amendments to vote one way or the other. The city vote on the amendments follows:

Oil heat at surprisingly low cost
wherever this "skinflint" burner is installed
That's what home owners say about the Model P Petro & Nokoi Oil Burner. For no other burner has "Tubular Atomization" that produces lazy, quiet, more efficient soft flame combustion, resulting in greater heat release in the burning of the fuel.
Built for small home heating plants, this Petro & Nokoi knows just how to squeeze every drop of fuel oil heat-dry. It's a "chisel" that trims fuel oil bills.
See it. Priced today at bedrock, even though costs are rising. In small now, start paying next fall.
